IN BANKRUPTCY COURT.

Decision of Referee Bowen in George T. Murdock Estate Overruled.

Referee in Bankruptcy A. J. Bowen received notice of an important decision Saturday with regard to the affairs of George T. Murdock, the New Buston (town of Thompson) woulder manufacturer, who filed a petition in bankruptcy in August, 1907, with assets of $140,772.10 and liabilities of tipe at 1907.

The decision of Referes Bowen relative to a claim of S. Rawister & company of New York has been overruied. The claim was originally one aggregating $2,937.59 for merchandise, but later it was moved to amend by fixing the sum at $35,258.30. The question that was at stake was whether or not a claim could be amended two months subsequent to one year after the adcoalm could be amended two months subsequent to one year after the adjudication. The referee decided that it could not and therefore a petition was subsequently filed setting forth an error in the first petition, alleging that the amount of $35.220.

co.i.d not and increore a petition was subsequently filed setting forth an error in the first petition, alleging that the amount of $35.385.30 should have been added to the original sum, making a total of $38,325.80. The referee ruled that the right to prove this claim was barred by statute.

The United States district court, through James P. Platt, judge, however, now orders that the claim of S. Rawister & company he amended and that said company is entitled to $28,325.80, the amount of their final claim. A difference of 50 per cent, in the dividends to the other creditors will be made by this decision, and instead of receiving 7 per cent, they will now receive a little less than $ 1-3 per cent.
